Introduction

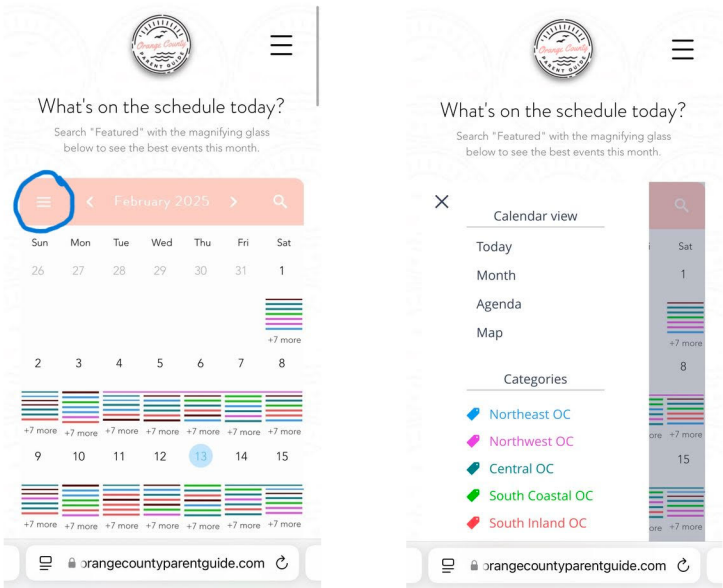

You can use this calendar to browse dozens of local event listings each day. To customize the event list to your preferences, you can search by keyword and filter by location. Below is a short tutorial on how to use those features and others!

I do my absolute best to ensure all the events on my calendar are updated and accurate, but please always click on the organizer link in each event post to verify details before you head out on your trip.

Filters

Each event is color-coded by its respective geographic area. You can filter the events so you only see certain geographic areas within Orange County. Examples for mobile and desktop devices are below.

Updates

I add new events every day. Make sure you refresh your browser to get the most current version of the schedule! Each afternoon I double check the next day's events to try to catch any that have been changed or canceled. Once I finish double- checking, I post an event preview in my Instagram stories that looks like this:
